DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restriction

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- Claims 1-5, 6-8 and 31-38, drawn to a modified DNA polymerase, classified in class 435, subclass 194.
- II. Claims 9-13, 29, 30, 39, 40, drawn to a DNA which encodes a modified DNA polymerase, a vector comprising said DNA and a host cell comprising said DNA, classified in class 435, subclass 252.3
- III. Claims 14-23, 41-48 and 49-56, drawn to a method of sequencing a DNA strand using the modified DNA polymerase of claim 1, classified in class 435, subclass 6.
- IV. Claims 24-27 and 28, drawn to a method of producing a DNA polymerase, classified in class 435, subclass 440.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons: Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the modified DNA polymerase of Group I, and the DNA encoding the modified DNA polymerase of Group II each comprise a chemically unrelated structure capable of separate manufacture, use and effect. The peptide of Group I is comprised of amino acid sequence and the DNA of Group II is comprised of nucleic acid sequence.

Art Unit: 1652

The DNA has other utility besides encoding protein such as a hybridization probe, and the proteins can be made synthetically. Additionally, the protein can be used to perform specific biological function(s) which are independent of the function(s) of the DNA molecule.

Inventions I and III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (M.P.E.P. § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product can be used in other methods such as nucleic acid amplification or synthesis.

The DNA of Group II is unrelated to the method of group III as it is neither used nor made by the method of group III.

Inventions I or II and IV are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the products of Groups I and II can each be made synthetically without the modifying a native nucleic acid or polymerase.

The methods of Groups III and IV are independent as they comprise different steps, utilize different products and produce different results.

Art Unit: 1652

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I-IV are not coextensive, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. "For purposes of the initial requirement, a serious burden on the examiner may be prima facie shown if the examiner shows by appropriate explanation either separate classification, separate status in the art, or a different field of search as defined in MPEP 808.02." (see MPEP 803).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
